

Ten Easy Steps For Submitting Your Insurance Claim And Completing The Work

- Contact a reputable insurance restoration contractor to inspect and document the damage to your property.
- Sign a service agreement with the contractor to allow them to negotiate the scope of loss and estimate with the adjuster.
- File your claim online, clearly outlining the damage and its cause. The adjuster will contact you within 48 hours to schedule an inspection of your property.
- The contractor will accompany the adjuster during the inspection, documenting the process through photos and video.
- The contractor and adjuster will create an estimate using the same software to compare and agree on the necessary steps and cost to restore your property to its pre-loss condition.
- Once a price agreement is reached between the contractor and the insurance company, the contractor will schedule a time to collect the deductible and the ACV check, and discuss any upgrades to our preferred warranty.
- The contractor will schedule the work to be done promptly and file any additional supplements needed during the completion of the job.
- Once the work is completed, the homeowner will sign a completion form to release the remaining funds and any additional supplements.
- The contractor will schedule a time to collect the final payment.
- The homeowner is encouraged to leave a review of the contractor on Google to help other homeowners choose the right roofer.
